This bibliography covers topics related to leadership in the library field. It is organized alphabetically in two sections with current journal articles followed by leading books on the subject. Every effort has been made to compile the newest scholarship, with a focus on the past ten years of activity. However, there are notable items that fall slightly outside of this range. This bibliography is not intended to function as a comprehensive survey, but instead to highlight recent significant works. The goal of this bibliography is to assist current and future library leaders in their development and understanding of the field.

I. Articles

Dotson, Kaye B., and Jami L. Jones. “Librarians and Leadership: The Change We Seek.” *School

II. Books

Winston, Mark, ed. Leadership in the Library and Information Science Professions: Theory and Practice. Hoboken:
Taylor and Francis, 2013.